

At this time, electricity is supplied by solar panels supported by an American student close to Rustic Pathways and the Smile Restaurant, next year the complex will be connected to the Kampong Cham power station.

In addition, bunk beds and the front gate were bought with funds from Rustic Pathways and some additional money from the Smile Restaurant. Furthermore, private Australian donors supplied daily necessities such as mosquito nets, pillows and fans. Next year, an additional building will be constructed to further fulfil the needs of the weaving class and the fence around the property will be enforced.
